

AN AFFILIATE OF METROPARKS OF TOLEDO AREA

harvest market DINNER

presented by

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 2012
6 - 10 PM @ TOLEDO BOTANICAL GARDEN

ONE TICKET - $75
FOUR TICKETS - $200

Celebrate the fall harvest at the first annual Toledo GROWs Harvest Market Dinner. This festive evening features a feast of sustainably-grown fresh local foods, locally crafted beer and vinted wines, local celebrity chefs, a silent auction, live music, good friends, and the vibrant atmosphere of a bustling market.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

We need community-minded local business, chefs, vendors, caterers, and other partners to contribute their time, talents and products to help make this event a bountiful success!

WHO BENEFITS?

Proceeds benefit Toledo GROWs, the community gardening outreach program of Toledo Botanical Garden. Since 1996, Toledo GROWs has taught thousands of people of all ages and backgrounds to grow their own produce while beautifying their neighborhoods. Toledo GROWs provides seeds, plants, tools, planting materials, expertise and volunteers in support of over 100 community gardens throughout urban Toledo.

Youth from the CITE Program of the Lucas County Juvenile Justice Division are currently working with staff from Toledo GROWs to build their own training center, and possibly their own college campus. In the process, they learn construction techniques and life skills while improving their neighborhood in North Toledo.

For more information, visit www.toledogarden.org or call (419) 536.5566